The Possessive Form of Nouns

Use the possessive form of a noun to show ownership.

- To make the possessive form, put an apostrophe and an s 's after a singular noun.

This is my bed and that is Peter's bed.

We all like Dad's cooking.

It is my job to collect everybody's plate after the meal.

The flies are buzzing around the horse's tail.

This is Susan and Jenny's room.

This is Tom's hat and that is Tom's father's hat.

Notes

- How do you make the possessive form when two names linked by and are the owners? Put an 's after the second name only. For example:

Katy and Mike's house is very big. (= the house that belongs to both Katy and Mike)

Joe and Sarah's dad works at the shoe factory. (= He is Joe's dad and he is also Sarah's dad.)

- Sometimes two possessive forms with 's appear together, one after the other:

This is John's brother's ball. (= The ball belongs to John's brother.)

Paul's teacher's house has a swimming pool. (= the house that belongs to Paul's teacher)

- After plural nouns that don't end in s, use an apostrophe and an s 's to make the possessive form.

The children's room is always messy.

Some people's houses are bigger than ours.

Rats' tails are longer than mice's tails.

Men's voices are deeper than women's voices.

After plural nouns that end in s, just add an apostrophe s'.

The pupils' desks are arranged in rows.

The boys' bedroom is bigger than the girls' bedroom.

The strong winds destroyed all the farmers' crops.

Mice's tails are shorter than rats' tails.

Notes

When a name ends in s, you can make the possessive form in either of two ways: add an apostrophe and an s 's, or add just an apostrophe '. For example:

This is James's house.	or	This is James' house.
Which is Charles's bike?	or	Which is Charles' bike?

Exercise 11

(Tom) dog is in the garden, lying in the sunshine. Tom wants to play with the dog, but Peter is afraid of the (dog) big teeth and sharp claws.

At 7 o'clock, (Peter) dad arrives in his car to take Peter home. Tom says he likes (Peter's dad) new car. (Peter) dad says that he'll take Tom for a ride in it sometime.

Personal Pronouns

Personal pronouns may be used as:

Subject Pronouns

The subject of a verb does the action of the verb. The personal pronouns I, you, he, she, it, we and they can all be used as the subject of a verb. Study the following two sentences:

Lisa likes cats. She has four cats.

In the first sentence, the proper noun Lisa is the subject of the verb likes.
In the second sentence, the pronoun she is the subject of the verb has.

Here are some more pairs of sentences that show personal pronouns used as subjects of verbs.

My name is Michael. I am fourteen.

My father works hard. He works in a factory.

My sister is older than me. She is twelve.

Our dog is very naughty. It likes to chase cats.

Bob, you are a bad dog!

David and I are playing football. We like sports.

Jim and Jeff are my brothers. They are older than I am.

Object Pronouns

The object of a verb receives the action of the verb. The personal pronouns me, you, him, her, it, us and them can all be used as the object of a verb. Look at the following two sentences:

Lisa likes cats. She likes to stroke them.

In the first sentence, the noun cats is the object of the verb likes. In the second sentence, the pronoun them is the object of the verb stroke.

Here is a table to help you remember which pronouns to use.

	subject	object
first person singular	I	me
second person singular	you	you
third person singular	he she it	him her it
first person plural	we	us
second person plural	you	you

Reflexive Pronouns

Reflexive pronouns are words that refer to the noun or pronoun that is the subject of the verb. The words myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves and themselves are reflexive pronouns.

5 Verbs and Tenses

Most verbs describe actions, so they are called action verbs. Action verbs tell what people or things are doing. Here are some common action verbs.

drink	look	jump	swim	fall
eat	shout	walk	throw	climb
laugh	run	sit	catch	dance

Subject and Verb Agreement

When you use a verb, you have to say who or what is doing the action. This 'who or what' is the subject of the verb. The subject and the verb match each other. You say that the subject and the verb agree when they match each other.

Use a singular verb if the subject is a singular noun. For example, the subjects 'my dad' or 'our school', or any of the pronouns he, she or it, require a singular verb. Most singular verbs end in s. Look at the subjects and their verbs in these examples. The subjects are in bold and the verbs are in color.

He always drinks milk when he's hot.

She eats bananas for breakfast.

Mom walks to work every day.

My sister dances like a professional dancer.

The baby falls when she tries to walk.

Our cat climbs the trees in our garden.

This form of the verb is called the third person singular. You use it when the subject of the verb is not you or the person you are speaking to, but some other person—a third person—or a thing.

Here are some more third person singular verbs that end in s.

plays	sings	shines	rides	smiles
draws	paints	blows	thinks	stops
reads	rains	travels	talks	starts

The third person singular form of some verbs is made by adding es at the end. Some examples are verbs that end in sh, ch, ss, x, zz and o.

brushes	watches	kisses	fixes
rushes	reaches	misses	mixes
polishes	teaches	passes	buzzes
crashes	catches	presses	does
washes	touches	dresses	goes

Here are some sentences with verbs in their third person singular form. The subjects are in bold and the verbs are in color.

Dad mixes flour and water when he makes bread.

How do you make the third person singular form of most verbs that end in y? Usually, you just change the y to an i and then add es.

carry – carries	hurry – hurries	copy – copies
cry – cries	fly – flies	marry – marries

A cat carries its kitten with its mouth.

Mr. Chen hurries to work every morning.

The baby cries a lot at night.

annoy – annoys

stay – stays

Mr. Carter pays all his bills with a credit card.

Transitive and Intransitive Verbs

The subject of the verb is Alice. She is the person who does the action: she eats. The object of the verb is a banana. A banana is affected by the action of the verb. So in this sentence, the object of the verb 'eat' is 'a banana'. Verbs that have objects are called transitive verbs.

Here are some sentences with transitive verbs. The verbs are printed in bold and their objects are printed in color.

Four Kinds of Sentence

A declarative sentence makes a statement.

An interrogative sentence ends with a question mark (?) instead of a period.

An exclamatory sentence makes a very strong statement called an exclamation. It shows a strong feeling such as surprise or anger.

How beautiful she is!

Notes

An exclamatory sentence ends with an exclamation point (!) instead of a period.

Don't tell me lies.

Go to your room!

Notes

Sentences with Objects

The subject of a sentence often does something to another person or thing. The person or thing that receives the action of the subject is called the object of the verb. Verbs that have objects are called transitive verbs.

Here are some sentences with transitive verbs.

subject	transitive verb	object

indirect object

direct object

The thing that Sam gives is 'a present', so a present is the direct object of the verb. But there is another object: 'Anna'. 'Anna' is the person that receives the present, so Anna is the indirect object of the verb. Many verbs have both direct and indirect objects. Here are some examples.

subject	verb	indirect object	direct object

yes or no questions

When you ask a yes or no question, you want the answer yes or the answer no. Use the verbs be, have and do along with helping verbs such as can, will and should when you ask these questions. Here are some examples of yes or no questions, with answers.

Is this your seat?

Yes.

Can you ride a bike?

No.

Do you like swimming?

Yes.

May I sit here?

Yes.

Don't you like pizza?

No.

Are we late?

No.

- In questions, the helping verb comes before the subject. The other verb comes after the subject. The verb be also comes before the subject when it is an ordinary verb rather than a helping verb.

Here are some examples of statements and the questions you can make from them. Notice that the helping verbs are printed in bold and the subjects are in color.

statement	question

Question-word questions

Use the question words what, which, who (sometimes whom), whose, when, where and how to ask for information. The verbs be, have and do, and helping verbs such as can, will and should are also used in questions.

The helping verb comes before the subject, as it does in yes or no questions. Here are some examples. Again, the helping verb is printed in bold and the subject is printed in color.

What is your name?

What date is it today?

Which boy is your brother?

Sometimes the wh-word itself is the subject of the sentence. In this case, don't use do to form questions.

Who wants to come with me?

What caused the accident?

Which is the fastest car?

I've got my coat. Whose is this?

Question Tags

- Sometimes people finish what they are saying with a short question. Why do they do this? Because they want to know if the person they are speaking to agrees with them. This short question is called a question tag. Look at the following sentence.

The weather is lovely today, isn't it?

The main part of the sentence is positive, but the question tag is negative. You expect the answer to a negative question tag to be yes. For example:

"The weather is lovely today, isn't it?" "Yes, it is."

- Use a helping verb and the subject of the sentence to make the question tag. Notice that the subject has been replaced by a pronoun in the example sentences. The pronoun in the question tag refers to the subject printed in color.

Tom is older than you, isn't he?

Sally has got a dog, hasn't she?

Anna and I can go by train, can't we?

11 Direct and Indirect Speech

Direct Speech

The exact words that someone says are called direct speech. Quotation marks “ ” are used to set off direct speech.

Mom said, “Where are my keys?”

“This ice cream is delicious,” said Tom.

“Have you boys washed your hands?” asked Dad.

“Please get out of the car,” the police officer ordered.

“What a beautiful dress!” said Sally.

Indirect Speech

You can report what someone says without using their exact words. To do this, use a verb like say, ask or tell, followed by that. This is called indirect speech. There are several differences between a sentence with direct speech and a sentence with indirect speech.

- You don't use quotation marks with indirect speech.
- You change the tense of the verb.
- You change the pronouns and determiners.

Here are some examples. The verb tenses that change are printed in bold and the pronouns and determiners that change are printed in color. Remember that the past tense of can is could and the past tense of will is would.

direct speech	indirect speech
Maggie said, “ I feel ill.”	Maggie said that she felt ill.
Sumiko said, “ It's time to leave.”	Sumiko said that it was time to leave.
“ I can't find my book,” said Alice.	Alice said that she couldn't find her book.
“John is hitting me ,” said Peter.	Peter said that John was hitting him .
Dad said, “ I haven't had my breakfast yet.”	Dad said that he hadn't had his breakfast yet.
“ My car won't start ,” said Mom.	Mom said that her car wouldn't start .

In indirect speech people often leave out the conjunction that.

Maggie said ~~that~~ she felt ill.

Sumiko said ~~that~~ it was time to leave.

Alice said ~~that~~ she couldn't find her book.

Peter said ~~that~~ John was hitting him.

Dad said ~~that~~ he hadn't had his breakfast yet.

When you are using indirect speech to report a statement that is still true now, you don't change the tense of the verb.

direct speech	indirect speech
John said , "My mom doesn't like fish."	John said that his mom doesn't like fish.
"I live in a house by the sea," said Anna.	Anna said that she lives in a house by the sea.
Dad said , "Paris is a beautiful city."	Dad said Paris is a beautiful city.

Indirect Commands

Use verbs like order, tell and warn to report orders and instructions. The construction to + verb or not to + verb may also be used.

direct speech	indirect speech
The teacher said, "Stop running in the corridor!"	The teacher ordered us to stop running in the corridor.
"Put your books away, children," said Mr. Park.	Mr. Park told the children to put their books away.
Dad said to David, "Please help me by washing the dishes."	Dad asked David to help him by washing the dishes.
Jack said to Maggie, "Please don't tell anyone my secret!"	Jack begged Maggie not to tell anyone his secret.
Miss Lee said to Alan, "Don't be late again tomorrow."	Miss Lee warned Alan not to be late again the next day.

Indirect Questions

- The verb ask is usually used to report questions.

direct speech	indirect speech
Sally said, "Where is my backpack?"	Sally asked where her backpack was.
Peter said, "Have you finished your homework?"	Peter asked if I had finished my homework.

- To report a question, put the subject before the verb or helping verb. Remember that the subject comes after the helping verb when you ask a question. Here are some examples. The subjects are printed in bold and the verbs are printed in color.

asking a question	reporting a question
"Where are they going ?"	I asked where they were going .
" Can Jack ride his bike?"	I asked if Jack could ride his bike.
" Did Miss Lee sing a song?"	I asked whether Miss Lee sang a song.
" Has she finished her homework?"	I asked if she had finished her homework.

- To report a question-word question, use the same question word in direct speech.

direct speech	indirect speech
Mom said, " Where are your shoes?"	Mom asked where my shoes were.
Maggie said, " Who has taken my pen?"	Maggie asked who had taken her pen.
" What time does the show start?" asked Sue.	Sue asked what time the show started.
Peter said, " Why did you leave before the end of the movie?"	Peter asked why I left before the end of the movie.

When you are reporting yes or no questions, use if or whether after the verb.
